

scorched fire wood, bashed-up coffee cans, twisted copper plates, wire, chain and rock.

This is an inspiration from last summer's ride in the mountains.

I reach into my psche and the physical experience acquired from my life style. Forty-five years on Peace River soil, a rural life animals, family, community, and .. the "changing times." →

As a child I had the desire to "create", and as years pass, I have through trial and error use material at hand. I believe I am developing my own visual language. It is my mission to carry on this inner dialogue with myself

... riding through life, with conviction.

emilie mattson

2013

"Title"

"Changing times"

Mixed Media

~~Staggs~~
~~Reading~~

N.F.S..

- Untitled